

Vahana Code of Ethics

Upon the vehicle of the goat, we shall bring in a new era of balance and feel our true nature's purpose.

Vahana Nature Rehabilitation is a small company with a big dream: dedicated to lead the way in the example of healthy and balanced life with nature.

Community Sustainability

Quality of life

Lead the way in the example of living a healthy, balanced life in business, family, service, lowering unnecessary stress or worry by becoming closer to nature and Spirit. Allowing people to reach out to us so that we can support, inspire and learn from one another.

Education

Reaching out and educating at local schools, community groups. Joined Columbia Basin Environmental Educators Network.

Inspiration

Looking to stay inspired, to grow and connect with nature and inspiring people daily and weekly.

Ethical Workplace Practices

Education

All full time, permanent employees required to complete one of three courses (Introduction to the Chakras, Chakra Immersion or Karma Yoga). These courses increase self-awareness to promote an environment of open communication, humility, solidarity and the value of diversity.

Attitude of Duty with precision

Duties are done to the most correct, precise standards.

Communication of violations or unfair treatment

If violations of ethical conduct or fair labour practices are suspected written notice is to be conveyed to the Owner. If suspected of the Owner, written communication with the volunteer benefactors (Allan or Dawnna Coyle) is the first step of reconciliation. To ask questions. Nothing is assumed.
